LANDLORDS – CULTIVATION AND CONSUMPTION

Landlords in BC can prohibit home cultivation or allow it under certain restrictions.

Provincial Residential Tenancy Act

With the legalization of recreational cannabis, landlords will be able to include terms in new agreements prohibiting growing and smoking. It is the landlords responsibility to ensure these prohibitions are clear in tenancy agreements.

STRATA CORPORATIONS AND STRATA PROPERTY OWNERS

Strata Corporations

Can enact their own bylaws prohibiting or restricting recreational cannabis cultivation or smoking in strata lots or on common property.

Can impose fines and other penalties on strata lot owners, who do not comply.

Strata Property Owners

Be sure to check your Strata Bylaws and be aware that you are required to comply.

Property Owners and Renters

Who rent homes are subject to the rights and rules of the Residential Tenancy Act.

OTHER PROVINCIAL LAWS AND REGULATIONS

The Motor Vehicle Act has been amended to remove drug-impaired drivers from the road and deter drug-affected driving.

Child protection laws, provincial health and safety codes remain in effect and unaltered by the legalization of cannabis.
